Reader's Opinions

A moving story set in apartheid South Africa. Mouse, a young shy woman who never knew her real parents and does not know how to love and be loved is pursued by her colleague journalist, Johnny. Johnny has had several amorous affairs but falls in love with Mouse and proceeds to teach her to love him through brutal methods. With several...

Gradually Bessie Head is becoming my most read author. It all started after the Writers Project of Ghana held its twitter discussion on her book A Question of Power. I had earlier read the book (and two others: A Woman Alone and Maru), even before it was chosen and had had it reviewed on...
