

SO DIFFERENT

Mariah Sullivan is a tattoo-wearing, bruise-covered, kick-ass roller derby girl who doesn't put up with people who mistreat others. Her fierce exterior masks a woman who is loving, compassionate and deeply loyal to those she loves. Adam Barnett Jr. is a dentist like his father. He has come to Austin to take over his father's dental practice while he recuperates from...

Reader's Opinions

I have to say after reading this book on my kindle, it's my second favorite by this author after her first novel, "Reye's Gold". I liked both of the lead characters and overall found the story an enjoyable, and fast-ish read (I basically read it all in one sitting). I've liked all the novels by Ruthie Robinson but this one worked for...
