

IN SEARCH OF BILL CLINTON: A PSYCHOLOGICAL BIOGRAPHY

What makes Bill Clinton tick? William Jefferson Clinton, the 42nd President of the United States is undoubtedly the greatest American enigma of our age -- a dark horse that captured the White House, fell from grace and was resurrected as an elder statesman whose popularity rises and falls based on the day's sound bytes. John Gartner's In Search of Bill Clinton unravels the mystery at the heart of Clinton's complex nature and why so many people fall under his spell. He tells the story we...

Peek Inside the Book

In fact, Clinton feels others pain to the point that he not infrequently openly weeps for them, and his teary response is so infectious that it can trigger tears in others. This creates the opportunity for powerful political theater, all the more powerful because it is genuinely felt. Leopoulos was with Clinton in New Hampshire, and recalled how Clintons empathy routinely triggered an epidemic of tears. He had to hear everyones story. Some of the people were crying, and had terribly sad stories. Clinton started crying,...

Machiavelli once said that if a prince had to choose between being loved and feared, he is better off being feared. Or as Lyndon Johnson put it more crudely, If you have their balls in your pocket, their hearts and minds will follow. Scratch away the thin veneer of civilization and the psychology of human leadership is not...
